

PPL Montana reaches agreement to sell hydroelectric facilities

Includes more than 630 megawatts of generating capacity

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 26, 2013 /PRNewswire/ -- PPL Corporation (NYSE: PPL) announced Thursday (9/26) that its PPL Montana, LLC subsidiary has reached an agreement to sell its hydroelectric facilities to NorthWestern Energy for $900 million in cash, subject to certain adjustments.

The agreement includes PPL Montana's 11 hydroelectric power plants, which have a combined generating capacity of more than 630 megawatts, as well as the company's Hebgen Lake reservoir. The sale is expected to close in the second half of 2014 and will require regulatory approvals, including approval from the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission and Montana Public Service Commission.

"This is an opportunity to secure attractive shareowner value for high-performing, non-carbon assets," said William H. Spence, chairman, president and chief executive officer of PPL Corporation.

The agreement does not include PPL Montana's interest in the Colstrip facility or its J.E. Corette coal-fired facility located near Billings. The Colstrip plant is jointly owned by PPL Montana and five other companies, including NorthWestern Energy. PPL Montana previously announced that it plans to mothball the Corette plant in April 2015.

The agreement also does not include the Butte-based power marketing and trading operations of PPL Montana's marketing and trading affiliate, PPL EnergyPlus, LLC. PPL EnergyPlus will continue to market the output of PPL Montana's remaining generation assets and continue to serve its current and prospective customers.

In a related transaction, PPL Montana will pay $271 million to terminate a sale-leaseback arrangement for its interest in the Colstrip coal-fired facility. Termination of the lease is expected to be completed by the end of 2013 and is subject to approval of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

PPL estimates that the total net proceeds of the sale of its Montana hydroelectric facilities, the termination of the sale-leaseback agreement, and other adjustments, on the terms set forth in the applicable agreements, will be approximately $623 million.

PPL Montana's hydroelectric facilities include its Thompson Falls Dam on the Clark Fork River; Kerr Dam on the Flathead River; Madison Dam on the Madison River; Hauser, Holter, Black Eagle, Rainbow, Cochrane, Ryan and Morony dams along the Missouri River; and Mystic Lake Dam on West Rosebud Creek.
