

A group of approximately ten children and one adult woman are posing behind a table. They are all smiling and holding up various children's books. The books have colorful covers with illustrations of animals, people, and landscapes. Some of the visible titles include 'Cautious You', 'Corduroy', 'Diary of a Wimpy Kid', and 'The Cat in the Hat'. In the background, a large sign reads 'COVER TO COVER' with a logo of an open book. Below the title, it says 'Let's turn the page on child literacy.' and 'A reading and literacy project from the PPSD'. The setting appears to be a school library or a community center.

“Cover to Cover helps children who would otherwise miss out on reading and learning opportunities in the summer,” said Lissette Santana, senior manager-Corporate Responsibility and Sustainability. “Not reading over the summer can cause these young students to fall behind as much as two grade levels by the fifth grade. We’re proud to inspire their love of reading, which helps students stay on track.”

PPL partnered with United Way of the Greater Lehigh Valley, Cops 'n' Kids of the Lehigh Valley and WVIA in Pittston, Pennsylvania.

Through strategic partnerships, the PPL Foundation will support organizations that are working to create vibrant, sustainable communities and are empowering each citizen to fulfill her or his potential. The PPL Foundation contributes more than $3 million annually to a wide variety of nonprofit organizations.
